Notice of Privacy Practices

- I. This is a formal notification, as required by CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) concerning the privacy policy of this practice. This notice describes how medical information about you may be disclosed and how you can get access to this information. It is important that all patients and staff understand the importance of guarding patient information. Please review the following carefully.
- II. We have a legal duty to safeguard your protected health information (PHI). We are legally obligated to maintain all medical records and information in the strictest of confidence as required by law. What this means to the patient is that we must safeguard all patient information. This means we cannot release information to others without your written consent. This includes conversations, reminder calls, test results, and other information that may be of a confidential nature. Patient information about health care is identified as "PHI" which is short for "protected health information". This change in policy requires that you, the patient, identify and clarify at the time of registration or re-registration with the practice who we can talk to, how we can leave information on your behalf, and the process for ongoing continuity of your medical care. You can change this information at any time with either written notification or verbal notification followed up in writing. Changes can only impact the care or information from that point forward in time.
- III. Your protected health information is an intricate part of your medical care, and can be used with your written consent as follows:
- For your treatment here in this practice and other locations under the immediate care of Dr. Halpert. This may include any referral for services such as lab, x-rays, other diagnostic testing or treatment related to your condition or medical care needs.
  - For obtaining payment for treatment with your identified insurance or health coverage program. This would include any documentation related to this process, which may include history forms, progress notes, or operative notes.
  - For operations of this practice, such as billing, collection, accounting, and compliance with federal and state laws and regulations.
  - Consent is not required for emergency care and treatment. This would be any emergency medical condition that in the judgment of the physician or medical entity required immediate and full information for care on your behalf.
- Certain disclosures can be made without your consent, and they are as follows:
- Disclosures required by the government or law enforcement agencies. Specific areas that require release are gun shot wounds, domestic violence, and victims of abuse or neglect.
  - Information used for public health purposes, such as disease tracking, medical examiners or related to a person's death.
  - Information used for health care oversight, such as a site review by an insurance program.
  - Information related to organ donation.
  - Information related to certain research procedures, the majority of this information is stripped of any personal data, and is normally generic (age, sex, diagnosis) in nature.
  - Information provided to avoid harm if there is a threat to patient or other safety.
  - Specific governmental functions.
  - Workers compensation review.
- IV. Your rights with respect to your personal health information are as follows:
- The right to request limits on the uses and disclosure. This can be done at the time of registration or any time during your care.
  - The right to choose how we send this information to you, including an alternate address.
  - The right to see and obtain copies of this information, but there may be copy and postage fees.
  - The right to get a listing of who have made disclosures to about your PHI.
  - The right to correct and update your file through an amendment process if appropriate.

- The right to withhold information from an insurance company if the patient so request and pays out of pocket in full for services.
- The right to know if there is a breach of the PHI
- The right of uses and disclosures of PHI that requires written patient authorization such as marketing and fundraising.

V. This practice reserves the right to modify or change this Privacy Statement and process at any time. Revision to the Notice will be available upon request by contacting the office. The changes will be effective retroactively to the initial date of the Privacy Notice. An updated Privacy Notice will be posted in the office within 60 days of the revision.

VI. If you have a concern or complaint about how your protected health information is being used, from this time forward you should first contact our office to see if we can resolve your concerns, or you may contact the Office of Civil Rights, or the Ohio Medicare Carrier, GBA Palmetto.

- Contact the office manager and complete a complaint form for review and discussion.
